THE TRAIL

1961

Vol. IX

Tecumseh High School
New Carlisle, Ohio

One of the happiest stops along our highway: the bus stop at the end of a day of school.

Foreword

The trails of yesterday have changed to modern highways, and this year The Trail will picture for you a series of stops along a very special kind of highway—the highway of learning at a modern high school, Tecumseh High School. There will be signs along this highway of learning to remind us of the many activities of our school year just as there are signs along the roadways. For example, the student section will be introduced by a "Men at Work" sign to remind us of the hours spent studying; a "Theater Entrance" sign will remind us of the many activities such as plays and special programs which we enjoy each year.

Soon each of us will take a different road into the future, but before we go around that bend, let us take another look at the heavily traveled avenues of the school year 1960-61 at Tecumseh High School.

Dedication

The annual staff of 1961 dedicates this yearbook to Mr. W. J. Reynolds in recognition of the more than thirty years he has spent in the teaching profession in our school district. During this time he has helped guide hundreds of students along the road of knowledge in the fields of mathematics and science.

The Board of Education and the Administration Strive for an Even Better School System

Lawrence Pflaumer. Executive Head

Over 3,000 students in the New Carlisle-Bethel Local School District depend on the decisions of the Board of Education and the daily guidance of Mr. Lawrence Pflaumer, the Executive Head. Not only Tecumseh High School, but also six other schools—Olive Branch Junior High, Oscar T. Hawke School, Olive Branch Elementary, Medway Elementary, Donnelsville Elementary, and New Carlisle Elementary—look to them for the securing of new teachers, the planning of new facilities, the buying of needed equipment and the hundreds of other services which they so efficiently render for the largest of all the county's school districts.

Clerk of the Board of Education Marjorie Barnhart and Secretary Alice Hughes.

High School Affairs Directed by Principal Paul Cochran

Mr. Paul Cochran, principal, supervises the learning and school activities of 425 students and the work of nearly thirty staff members. After being graduated from West Liberty State College, he later earned a master's degree from the Ohio State University and was principal at West Jefferson High School before coming to Tecumseh High School in 1958.

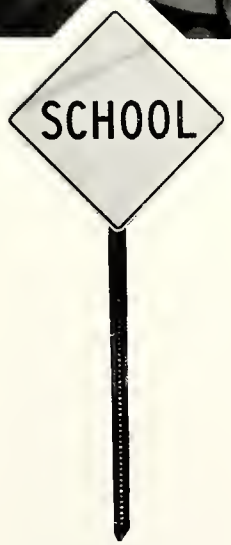
FACULTY AND CURRICULUM

An 8:00 Faculty Meeting



To motorists along the highway, the sign "School" means several things. It may signal "slow down" or another similar traffic warning, but it also reminds them that just ahead will be a large building in which teachers and students are working together on the highway of learning. In the pages that follow, the reader can take a trip through the classes of Tecumseh with the faculty members on this highway of learning.

Homecoming Highlights

The "Welcome Home. Grads" sign greeted returning alumni on the night of homecoming, October 28, as a large crowd at the new Tecumseh field watched the Arrows down the Falcons.

After an action-packed first half, Dick Ross, president of Student Council, conducted the homecoming ceremonies at which Mary Lou Harmon was crowned queen by the 1959 queen, Rosemary Barnhart. Serving as Mary Lou's attendants were Linda Myers and Dawne Evans, representing the senior class; Janet Barnhart, junior; and Peggy Benton, sophomore.

The reign of Rosemary Barnhart ends when she crowns Miss Mary Lou Harmon as the 1960 Homecoming queen.

Pausing at the end of the ceremonies are the queen and her court with their escorts.

The 1961 Class Presents
JANUARY THAW

A remodeled New England house, legal fine print, and a suspected scandal were the main ingredients of the plot of the senior class play January Thaw. The matinee for the junior high school on November 17 and the evening performance on November 18 were both well-attended.

This comedy-drama portrayed the story of Mr. Herbert Gage, a New York writer, his wife, Marge, and their three daughters, who remodel and move into an old New England house. Later the former owners, Jonathan and Mathilda Rockwood, return. The Gages don't want to move from their new home, but, much to their horrified surprise, they find that the fine print in their contract also gives the Rockwoods the right to live in the house. During the long and weary winter Mr. and Mrs. Rockwood and their playboy son, Matt, live in one corner while the Gages occupy the rest of the house. The atmosphere inside is as cool as the temperature outside; however, just as the ground begins to thaw as the spring months approach. the dislike between Herbert Gage and Jonathan Rockwood melts in a moment of crisis.

April 28 was the date set for the junior class play. Mother Is A Freshman. The light comedy revolved around Abigail Abbott, the widowed mother of a sophomore college student. Abigail finds it necessary to return to college on a special "Abigail Fortitude" scholarship in order to earn the money to keep her daughter at Pointer College. Problems arise when Abigail's daughter Susan and the other girls in her dorm find that the attractive Mrs. Abbott has become their rival for the affections of Professor Michaels, the handsome biology teacher. Moreover, the college dean disapproves of Mrs. Abbott's having come to Pointer. However, by the end of the third act all problems are solved, and a capacity crowd enthusiastically applauded the happy ending of Mrs. Abbott's freshman year.

A 28-0 victory over Southeastern, who outranked the Arrows in the final league standings, an outstanding battle against top-ranked Shawnee and the placement of Denny Helmer as All-League Defensive Linebacker and Lee Weidner as All-League Defensive Tackle illustrate the determination and hard work of the players. Their potential can be seen in the awarding of All-League Honorable Mention honors to Fred Bergman and Dale Still, who are both juniors. Team honors went to Lee Weidner, Honorary Team Captain; Denny Helmer, Most Valuable Player; and Dale Still, Most Improved Player. Dedication of the new football field, Parent's Night, Homecoming game, and the annual football banquet were among the highlights of the 1960 football season.

In their final outing of the season, the team placed seventh in the Mad River Valley League track meet held at Evans Stadium in Springfield.

BASEBALL TEAM WINS LEAGUE CROWN

Despite the cold and rainy weather which forced the cancellation and postponement of several baseball games, the Tecumseh Arrows played a total of twenty games, of which eleven were victories. In league play, the team earned seven straight victories, which won them the Mad River Valley League Championship. In district play, the team defeated Brookville before bowing out to Urbana.

Hard work, good times, and food, food, food, will be remembered by this year's basketball team. Noon foul shooting, after-school practices, and many drills enabled the varsity to end with a 2-3 record and the reserves with a 3-1 record.

The fun of meeting people from other schools is the beginning of many a lasting friendship, and who could ever forget the mountains of sandwiches prepared to feed the hungry players after the games are over?

A toss-up between Kay Horrocks and Phyllis Copenhefer during a noon game determines which team will have the hall.

A tense moment occurs as Phyllis Copenhefer gets ready to pass for a basket-making play.

Each school sent six girls to the tournament. Tecumseh's volleyball teams also played one other regular game against Tipp City.

ORGANIZATIONS

Pins representing some of the extracurricular organizations at Tecumseh.

This road sign serves as a reminder of the purpose of Tecumseh's many active clubs and music and dramatic organizations. Like the motorist along the highway who sometimes makes a turn off the main highway, students are given an opportunity to explore ideas and gain experiences off the main highway of academic learning through their extracurricular organizations.

"What kind of program shall we plan for Homecoming this year?" This question might very well have been spoken during a student council meeting this year, since almost every meeting begins with problems similar to this one. Along with the Homecoming festivities, student council members also planned the Christmas dance, Honor Day Banquet, and noontime activities.

This organization is composed of one representative from each homeroom and is guided by Mr. W. J. Reynolds in planning for the welfare of the students of Tecumseh.

High Honors Given to Six Seniors, Sixteen Juniors at National Honor Society Ceremonies

"To be chosen for the National Honor Society is the greatest honor to come to a student during his high school career." Thus began National Honor Society President Marvin Pflaumer's introductory speech at the induction services February 24, 1961.

All students with a three point grade average are eligible to be considered for membership in this organization. Six seniors and sixteen juniors were inducted this year after being selected by the teachers through ratings on scholarship, service, leadership, and character. Mrs. Martha Budd, English teacher at Tecumseh for fifteen years, was chosen as an honorary member by the senior members.

Community and School Served by Art Club

The Art Club, advised by Mrs. Aileen Acton, provides an extracurricular outlet for students talented in the creative arts. Projects for this year have included various field trips to art exhibits, the making and printing of the art room drapes, and a special foreign art exhibit, "The World's Youth at Art." The club also sent local students' work to a United Nations Art Branch to exchange pictures and ideas with students in foreign countries.

Ancient Rome and Modern Spain Interest Language Clubs

Tecumseh's Spanish and Latin Clubs shared similar activities this year. For example, eating authentic foreign dishes and sightseeing through pictures were among the best-remembered events of both language clubs. The Spanish Club had a fiesta featuring authentic Spanish and Mexican dishes. After eating, a blindfolded guest broke a piñata filled with candies. Later in the year the Latin Club held their annual Roman banquet, complete with slaves and exotic finger food. Earlier in the year the Spanish Club saw slides taken by Pam Aldredge on her trip in Mexico while the Latin Club was visiting the ruins of ancient Rome via a film.

The policy of the two clubs toward membership, however, is somewhat different. Mr. Turoff's Spanish Club is open to all past and present Spanish students. The membership of Mr. Henkle's Latin Club is composed of present Latin students only.

Living up to their motto, "Learning to Do, Doing to Learn, Earning to Live, Living to Serve," the Tecumseh chapter of FFA reaped national, state, district and county honors. The chapter received the district award, a gold award in the state, and a superior rating in the nation for outstanding cooperative work. For their proficiency in business procedure, they received a gold rating in district competition.

Looking over their well-kept record books are Dick L. Griest, John Snyder, and Reiny Schiller.

Gold ratings were received by John Snyder, Dick L. Griest, Reiny Schiller, for accuracy in keeping books for the local chapter. During the past year, Don Eidemiller was selected Star District Dairy Farmer and the State Farmer's Degree was conferred upon Virgil Studebaker. Jerry Yoesting was a delegate to the National FFA convention and played in the National FFA band. Because of these many achievements during the year, Tecumseh's FFA chapter also retained their gold rating in the state for commendable accomplishment during the year.

A Christian Fellowship: The Bible Club

Since its organization four years ago, the Tecumseh High School Bible Club has grown from fifteen members to 160 members, and its activities have also increased many times over.

This year, the Bible Club quiz team's knowledge earned a first-place standing in the Dayton Youth for Christ contest. Among its varied meetings during activity periods were two outstanding programs—"Truth or Conseqnences" and "What's My Line?" The major activities of the Bible Club, however, are conducting devotions over the intercom each morning and helping with religions assemblies.

More School Spirit and Service to the School the Goals of Student Boosters

A full year of encouraging school spirit and aiding the athletic department added up to a successful year for the Student Boosters, whose advisor was Miss Rosemary Hartman. During football season club members worked in the concession stand at Tecumseh Field and sold programs. During the basketball season the members operated the concession stand at both the Tecumseh and Olive Branch Junior High games. After two of the home basketball games the club sponsored sock hops. At the pep rallies the Student Boosters entertained with clever skits. To instill more spirit during the basketball tournament, a Block T cheering section was organized, and "Arrow" pins were sold.

BOOSTER CLUB OFFICERS: Judy Eben, Treasurer; Roberta Miralia, Secretary; Marvin Pflanmer, President; Larry Reynolds, Vice-President.

Sports, Service and Sadie Hawkins All a Part of the GAA Year

G.A.A. BOARD: Kathie Layton, Secretary; Linda Myers, Vice-President; Pam Winter, Sandy Shade, Janis Armstrong, President; Janet Barnhart, Treasurer; and Gerry Kay Ziegenthaler.

"Strike three! You're out!" Not in GAA, though. There's always another inning or activity in GAA. Participation in these activities add up to awards. The first year award is given to those girls who earn fifty points. Fifty-five points are required for the second year award and sixty for the third year award. Special awards, too, are given to worthy individual members for bowling, most points, best sport, posture contest, and foul shooting. Since GAA is the only club of this type at Tecumseh, it is very important to any girl interested in athletics.

In November, G.A.A. girls sponsored a Sadie Hawkins Dance . . . Mrs. Nicewaner gave valuable advice throughout the year . . . and during basketball season the junior G.A.A. girls added to the treasury by operating a coat check service for the fans.

To help in the improvement of the football facilities, the Varsity T sodded the new football field and proudly presented the Tecumseh Athletic Association with a football scoreboard. When Tecumseh Field was opened in the fall of 1961, the scoreboard kept spectators posted on time, score, yardline of play, and the team in possession of the ball. Varsity T members also donate their time to help keep the school's football, track, baseball or other athletic facilities in first-class condition. Medals were awarded by the Varsity T to individuals on lunch-hour intramural championship teams. As a money making project, members sold Tecumseh Arrow decals.

All members of the Varsity T must be a recipient of a varsity letter in one of the school's interscholastic sports. Mr. Spitzer is the faculty advisor.

Mix together 100 pounds of white shirts, 10 dozen St. Patrick's Day cookies and 100 dollars worth of dimes. Stir with twelve officers and two advisors. Let jell for nine months and the resulting product is the story of the 1960-61 Y-Teen year.

The Y-Teens is a service organization to which any sophomore, junior or senior girl may belong. During the year each group must complete three service projects: one for the school, one for the community and one for the world. Examples of such projects in the past year were the senior collection of white shirts for Dr. Schweitzer, the juniors' Dr. Dooley workday and the sophomores' collecting for the March of Dimes.

In the spring the Y-Teen girls held their annual Y-Teen Mother-Daughter banquet. The colorful and amusing theme selection was the circus.

Officers who made the many Y-Teen projects successful were seniors Janis Armstrong, Mary Jo Stanley, Diane Hall and Judy Eben; juniors Kathie Layton, Carole Edwards, Becky Cobaugh, and Janie Studebaker; and sophomores Barbara Kitchen, Dottie Myers, Sonnie Thuma and Cindy Herman. All three Y-Teen groups were jointly sponsored by Miss Barbara Miller and Miss Nancy Virts.

Scrubbing, raking, and waxing for the Dr. Dooley workday were Kathie Layton, Ethel McKinney, Judi Jones and Georgialee Jackson.

Sophomore "clowns" at the Mother-Daughter banquet make a wild turn in the tricycle race.

Drama Club officers were Scott Laidig, Vice-President; Mary Lou Harmon, Secretary; Hugh Wallace, Treasurer; and Linda Myers, President.

QUIET, PLEASE Ends Busy Year for Drama Club

ABOVE: Members of the Christian Society try to persuade two brothers to speak to each other after years of feuding.

Drama Club members were very busy in 1960-61. Their projects included selling tickets to class plays, serving as ushers, helping make-up crews, and providing properties for dramatic productions at Tecumseh. In addition, the club produced a one-act play entitled Quiet, Please, the story of two feuding Ozark Mountain brothers. The cast of this play included Larry Reynolds and Ronnie Phipps as the brothers. Other members of the cast were Sue Studebaker, Daryl Woodard, Doris Foster, Barbara Wolter, Judy Spence.

BELOW: Suspicious looks fly back and forth between Jeff and Judd.

BELOW: An unexpected guest, Catherine, eventually brings about a temporary reconciliation between the two brothers.

During the year, Mr. Davies, of Ohio Edison, demonstrated the effect of various light bulbs on colored fabrics at a Home Economics Club meeting.

1,350 what?? 1,350 cookies were baked by the Home Ec. Department for College Night refreshments.

Needles and thread are the order of the day when the home ec girls clean and repair the football and basketball uniforms and practice jerseys. This job is just one of the many performed in service to the school by this organization.

Almost every girl in the department belongs to this club. which was primarily organized to promote interest in the field of home economics. The Home Economics Club is a charitable organization as well as social. This year the girls took toys which they made themselves plus candy and fruit to Shawen Acres Children's Home. The club sold Christmas cards and received a silver tea and coffee service for selling 120 boxes. The members also planned a tea for their mothers. teachers, and themselves.

Choir Provides Musical Background for Journey Through School Year

Dale Garrett, Vice-President; Ronnie Phipps, President; Mary Lou Harmon, Secretary; and Joyce Farling, Treasurer; prepare for a concert.

Hours of practice, combined with the feeling that it's fun to sing, resulted in outstanding choir programs during the school year. Among those programs presented were the musical selections at the Thanksgiving chapel, the Christmas concert, Easter cantata, and spring concert. The only non-musical event sponsored by the choir was the annual Valentine's Day dance, which was, once more, one of the most successful dances of the year.

The choir is directed by Mr. John Sipe. Ronnie Phipps, a senior choir member, was this year's student director.

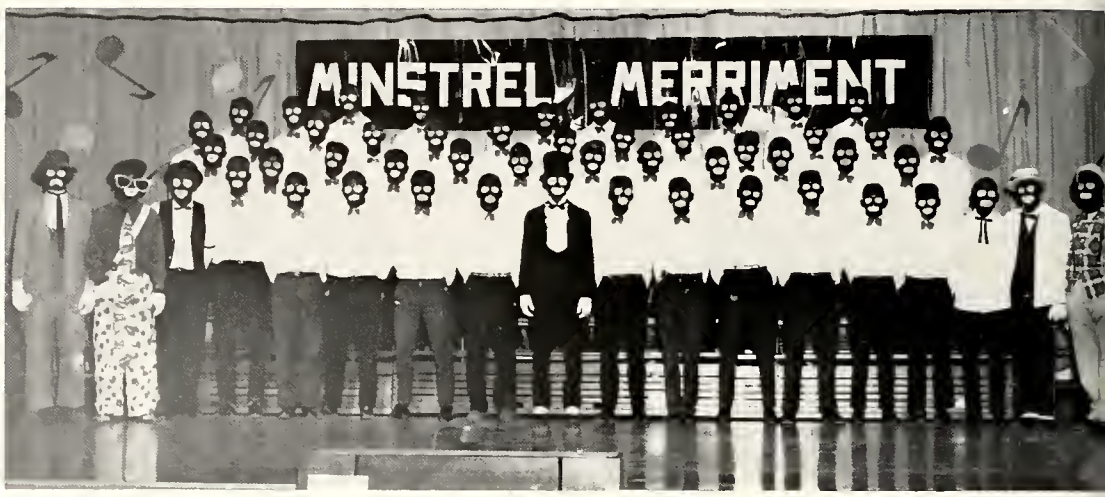
Enthusiastic Crowd Applauds Boys' Glee Minstrel



Recognize anyone? The audience enjoyed guessing the identity of the grease painted boys in Minstrel. Merriment.

Everyone who attended Tecumseh's second annual "Minstrel Merriment" on the night of Feb. 21 was amazed at the near-professional talents of the members of the Boys' Glee Club and their supporting cast. Marvin Pflaumer as Mr. Interlocutor starred along with John Smart. Lowell McGlothin, Dick L. Griest, and Ron Phipps as endmen. The audience laughed at the stories told about the students and faculty. Concerts, Contests, and Precision

The band welcomes the returning alumni on Tecumseh Field at the homecoming football game.

The Tecumseh High School Band had one of its most active years in 1960 and 1961. It all began in August when the band first met at camp. Not only did the band give excellent performances for the football season, but they also continued to be active throughout the year. Their long practices proved worthwhile when they received a superior rating at the district band contest and went on to the state contest where they earned an excellent rating. In addition to these activities, the band entertained at the Christmas Concert and at a joint concert with the Defiance Band in the Spring.

Lines, Lines, Lines—That's What the Sophomore Finds

Every day the wait for lunch seems long.

The line to the drinking fountain grows steadily longer as the spring temperatures steadily mount.

There are even lines in the morning—the 8:30 line to have absence excuses approved by Mr. Wenger.

Mrs. Nicewaner, Mrs. Upman, Miss B. Miller, Miss Virts, Mr. Studebaker—junior class advisors—could be talking over many things, ranging from the magazine sales to prom plans.

Junior Year Includes Magazines, Proms and Many Activities

"Good morning, students. My name is Janie Studebaker, and I am your F.T.A. substitute teacher for today," might be the comment Janie made to the class she supervised as part of her F.T.A. work

Barhara Breece proved to be the top junior salesman in the magazine campaign, held to raise money for the junior prom.

In order to increase the class treasury, Janet Barnhart and Barbara Lawson were among the juniors who sold school supplies in the junior store.

Commencement Held Evening of June 1

Seniors excitedly prepare for their final moments of their high school career.

The long march to Tecumseh Field begins for the 119 graduating seniors.

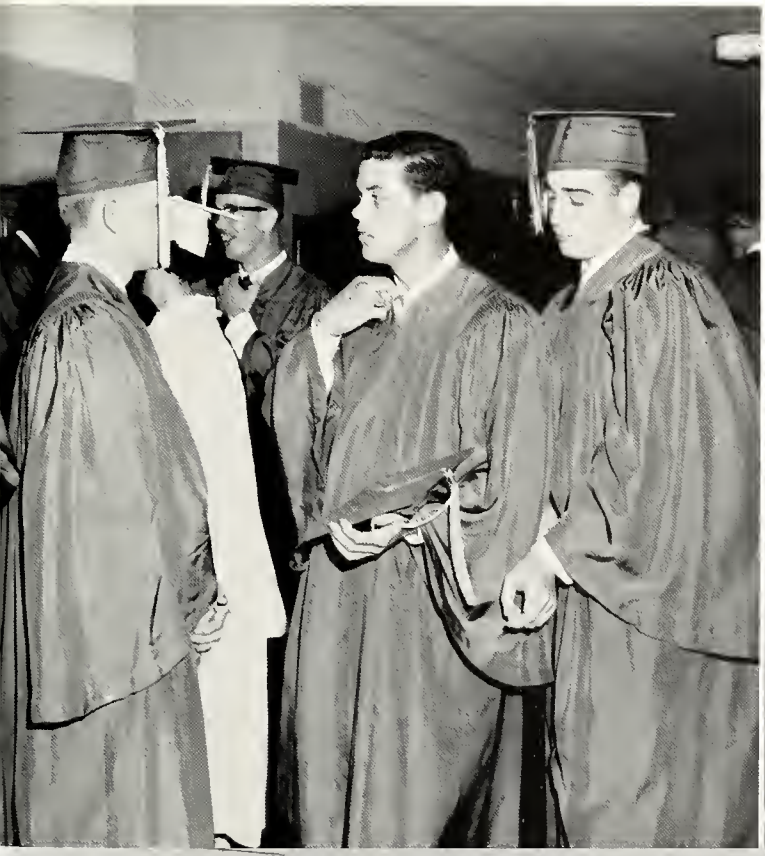
Commencement – 1961

At the commencement exercises, Dick Hutchinson was honored as the valedictorian and Joanne Whitacre was honored as the salutatorian of the Class of 1961. Hugh Wallace received the coveted citizenship award.

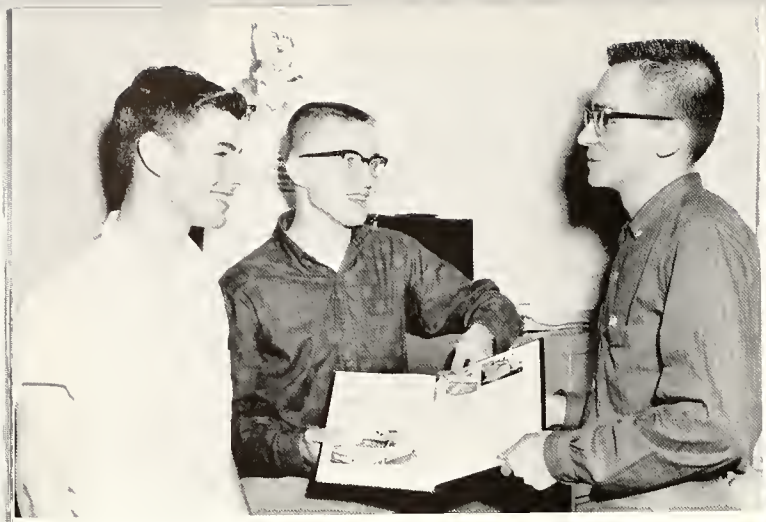
The members of the Class of 1961 were graduated at the first outdoor commencement held at Tecumseh Field.

Cloudy skies brought brief moments of anxiety to commencement participants, but no rain fell to mar the exercises.

Final goodbyes are said before seniors depart.



John Smart, Class President, presented money for a projector fund on behalf of the class.



The advertising staff included John Smart, Marvin Pflaumer and Steve Neff. Not pictured: Joanne Whitacre.

By End of Year, Headlines and Deadlines Are Familiar to Annual Staff

The end of the road in producing the annual comes for staff members in June after commencement pictures have been taken to complete the book. By this time an annual staff member has learned a number of printing terms and techniques and has become very familiar with the problem of meeting deadlines. The staff of seniors selected in the fall of 1960 managed to meet all copy shipments—barely—and to cope with many problems—breathlessly—and finally waited—eagerly—for the completed books to arrive in August.

Photographers Dick Hutchinson and Terry Johnson talk over their latest shots with Barbara Wolter, Hugh Wallace and Scott Laidig.
